War-Scarred Ship Is Home After Kamikaze Plane Attack

Vallejo, Calif., June 15 (AP) — Scarred and battered, with her superstructure wrecked from a direct hit by a Japanese kamikaze plane off Okinawa April 29, the doughty 2100-ton destroyer Hazelwood is berthed at the Mare Island Navy repair yard today being refitted for action.

Ten of her 19 officers, including her skipper, Comdr. V. P. Duow of Abingdon, Md., and 67 of her 299 enlisted men are dead or missing.

The gallant craft came home just four days short of her second birthday. She was commissioned at the Bethlehem yards in San Francisco June 18, 1943, and had seen action in the Wake, Tarawa, Gilbert, Marshall, Peleliu and Philippine island strikes before joining the Third fleet to carry the war to Japan's doorstep.

Near-Fatal Fight
The saga of her nearly-fatal battle against three Japanese suicide planes was told by Lt. (jg) L. E. Legas at Seattle, Wash., senior surviving officer.

Low clouds, scudded over the fast carrier group which the Hazelwood was escorting 100 miles northeast of Okinawa when three unidentified planes were spotted.

Duow's ship left formation to protect a vessel at the edge of the group. The first of the Japanese kamikaze trios scored a direct hit on a nearby destroyer and the Hazelwood turned to her aid.

The second plane dived at the Hazelwood, grazed the number four gun and crashed into the sea. Seconds later the third scooped out of the clouds too close for the five-inch guns to be effective. His right wing struck the after stack, swerving the plane into the superstructure where it exploded. The violent blast crumpled everything above decks, destroyed all fire control apparatus and communications. A wall of flame divided the ship and for two hours the Hazelwood was under two separate commands.

Bury Dead at Sea
Legas took charge forward and the task of caring for the wounded and overseeing the ship's control was assumed by Lt. (jg) C. M. Locke, Lockeford, Calif.

Locke ordered the ship stopped dead in the water as three other destroyers braved the flames and danger of further explosions to pull alongside and spray the decks with their hoses. Wounded from the Hazelwood were transferred to the protecting warships by small boats. When the oil-fed blaze was brought under control one of the destroyers towed the crippled Hazelwood for nearly 12 hours before power was restored by the surviving crewmen.

Those who lost their lives in the attack were buried at sea May 2 as the Hazelwood limped toward an advanced U.S. Navy base.

EXPECT LIGHT VOTE TUESDAY; LOCAL OPTION IN YORK SPRINGS

County political leaders were predicting a light vote next Tuesday in the advanced "fall" primary in all districts of the county excepting York Springs where interest is said to be running high on a local option vote on beer and liquor sales.

Beer sales are now permitted there. Dry forces petitioned for the local option on beer in an attempt to rid the town of alcohol dispensaries. They also asked a liquor referendum apparently because a victory for their forces would keep York Springs "dry" for four years. Local option votes may not be held at shorter intervals than four years.

The "wets" also petitioned for a local option vote on liquor explaining that with beer already allowed they hope to be able to sell liquors also.

Clerk-Treasurer Contests
Four years ago liquor sales were banned by a vote of 97 to 75 in York Springs, repeating a decision made eight years ago when beer was allowed and liquor banned in that borough.

With no state-wide contests and few major county races, interest centers in the county voting in the races for the nominations for county treasurer and for the GOP nomination for clerk of the courts.

The Republican candidates for the county treasurer are Clyde D. Berger, Carlisle street, and Donald C. Stallsmith, North Stratton street.

The race for the Democratic nomination is between Chester E. Mehring, local battlefield guide, and Robert F. "Speed" Walter, a Gettysburg barber.

Mrs. Emma Sheffer, the county's first woman clerk of the courts, a Republican, seeks election for a full four-year term and is opposed by Roy C. Wolf, Cumberland township farmer.

Vet to Run on "Stickers"
No Democratic names will appear on the ballots for the office of the clerk of the courts but Bernard Brashears, New Oxford, recently discharged from the Marine Corps, announced a few days ago he will wage a sticker campaign for the Democratic nomination.

No "sticker" opposition has yet appeared against Associate Judge A. Dale Knouse, Republican, who has filed for re-election. He is the only GOP candidate and no Democrats have filed.

The name of Judge W. C. Sheely appears on both major party tickets for the office of president judge—and he is opposed on both ballots.

Backed By Lawyers
His supporters in both parties filed nominating petitions at Harrisburg while other papers were being circulated by a group of Republicans seeking to have the name of Lt. (jg.) Donald P. McPherson, Jr., placed on the Republican ballot in spite of that officer's statement: "Being in the Navy, it is impossible for me to be a candidate for any office."

The move to run Judge Sheely on both tickets got underway when lawyers of both parties in both Adams and Fulton counties endorsed his candidacy several months ago.

A contest is underway for the GOP nomination for jury commissioners between Mervin I. Rice, Benderville, and P. E. Brough, Huntingtown township. Edgar A. Wolfe, Littlestown, is unopposed for the Democratic nomination.

Most boroughs will elect a burgess, auditor, tax collector, school directors and councilmen while townships will elect auditors, supervisors, assessors, tax collectors and school directors in addition to judges and inspectors of elections.

Few Local Candidates
In Gettysburg no candidates have filed in either party for the office of burgess but there are rumors of impending "sticker" campaigns. S. Richard Eisenhart, a Republican, asks re-election as a borough auditor but there are no Democratic candidates.

Tax Collector J. Herbert Weikert and Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder are running for re-election for their respective offices and are unopposed in their own party. The Democrats have no candidates for either post.

George T. Raffensperger and Charles S. Black are Republican candidates for the two positions to be filled on the school board. There are no announced Democratic candidates.

Election Offices Go Begging
Republicans are without candidates in the first ward. L. D. Shearer is running for re-election (Please Turn to Page 2)

Conover, Gettysburg R. 1, has received the Purple Heart medal after being seriously wounded in action April 28 on Cebu island in the Philippines. His brother, Pfc. Guy L. Conover, 19, wears a Bronze Star medal for meritorious achievement in battle on the Western Front April 13.

Mulholland, Chambersburg, secretary; Mrs. Charles T. Yingling, Hanover, treasurer; Mrs. Clarence Deardorff, Biglerville, chaplain; Mrs. Ray Reindollar, Littlestown, historian; and Mrs. Francis Bryan, Greencastle, sergeant-at-arms.

C. B. Dougherty Out For Burgess

Charles B. Dougherty, York street, former manager of the Gettysburg Ice and Storage company, announced today that he will campaign for both major party nominations for burgess of Gettysburg at next Tuesday's primaries.

No member of either party filed nominating petitions and consequently no names will be printed on the ballots for the office of burgess. Mr. Dougherty, who for years has been prominent in Democratic political circles, says he will distribute "stickers" to members of both parties for Tuesday's balloting.

Burgess Fred G. Pfeiffer said emphatically today that he "will not conduct a campaign for re-election to the office of burgess."

ALLOT $77,000 IN WAR BONDS TO THIS COUNTY

The allocation of a total of $77,000 in Seventh War Bond campaign purchases to the credit of Adams county was announced today by Edmund W. Thomas, chairman of the county War Finance committee.

The first allocation was made by the Pennsylvania Railroad in the amount of $27,000 in 7 1/8 per cent certificates of indebtedness of Series E-1946. Notice of the allocation was sent to Mr. Thomas by H. W. Scholter, treasurer of the railroad company.

The second allocation of the same type of certificates of indebtedness was made by the Metropolitan Edison company in the amount of $50,000.

Total sales of E bonds to individuals were reported this morning at $446,896.25, a little more than $253,000 short of the $700,000 E bond quota for individuals.

Only 17 days remain in which to reach the county quota and Chairman E. W. Thomas, of the county War Finance Committee, today appealed to all volunteer workers to extend their efforts during the remaining days in order that the county achieve its goal.

REVISE PLANS FOR RATIONING CANNING SUGAR

Revised plans for issuing rations of canning sugar here were announced today to put an end to a deluge of telephone calls from housewives who this week received only a fraction of the sugar rations for which they had applied.

The local War Price and Rationing board explained that canning sugar will be distributed on the basis of monthly quotas instead of granting any applicant his or her entire allotment of canning sugar in one issue.

The June issue is being made at the rate of three pounds per person with the first sugar ration allotments going out Friday after the short-handed ration board staff secured the help of several volunteer workers to aid in handling the sugar rush.

15-Pound Limit

A family of two receives six pounds of canning sugar for June, a family of three, nine pounds, and so on. Individual amounts to be issued in later months may be more than three pounds.

In July after the local board receives its canning sugar quota from the district office at Harrisburg, a July individual quota will be determined by dividing the number of applications into the number of pounds in the board's quota for the month and the July rations will be mailed.

A similar procedure will be followed each month until the canning season ends in October. For the purposes of the OPA sugar rations the "canning season" extends from April 15 to October 15. No sugar rations for canning will be issued after that date. Fifteen pounds is the maximum which may be issued to any individual for the entire season.

More Applications
A board spokesman said today that more than 4,000 individuals are represented in applications for canning sugar already on file at the ration board office and each mail brings more applications.

The canning sugar rations issued Friday were the first to go out here since the lifting of the "freeze order" on sugar for canning. An announcement from Harrisburg last Saturday lifted the "freeze" but delay in receiving the June quota figure and lack of adequate clerical help in the local office delayed issuance of the sugar certificates until Friday.

Seasonal canning sugar needs are to be considered in fixing board's monthly quotas, it was explained.

Buckner Sees End Of Okinawa Drive; Near Borneo's Oil

By JAMES HUTCHESON

Brunei Bay, June 16 (AP) — The African-experienced Australian "Rats of Tobruk" drove toward prized west Borneo oil fields today as an unconfirmed enemy broadcast reported an Allied fleet, led by three battleships, was approaching the oil refinery center of Balikpapan.

Tokyo said a fleet of three battleships, an aircraft carrier, 16 destroyers and "other warships" was moving in on Balikpapan, on the east central coast.

The broadcast was heard in the United States by the Federal Communications Commission.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique today said only that Balikpapan's defense guns and airdromes were pounded by more than 50 fighter-escorted Liberators.

Seek Refineries
(Any Allied moved on Balikpapan would be a grasp for some of the biggest refineries in the East Indies.)

The "Rats of Tobruk" who fought the Germans in North Africa, overran three airfields—within 800 miles of Singapore—seized the capital city of the sultanate and now are moving south toward the enemy-fired Seria and Miri oil fields.

Melbourne reports said the Aussies were pushing into the state of Sarawak, within 18 miles of the Tontong oil refinery.

MacArthur's communique today announced the occupation of the 3,600-foot Timbalai airfield on Labuan island and complete security of that island commanding entrance to the fleet anchorage of Brunei bay.

RAFFENSPERGER GIVEN CITATION

For "bravery and outstanding devotion to duty under hazardous conditions," Second Lieut. Bruce W. Raffensperger, 23, older son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Raffensperger, Ardenstville, has been awarded the first Oak Leaf cluster to the Bronze Star Medal. A copy of the citation that accompanied the cluster has just been received by his parents.

The citation reads in part: "Bruce W. Raffensperger, second lieutenant, Infantry, Company D, 253rd Infantry Regiment, for heroic achievement in action on April 10, 1945, in the vicinity of Kressbach, Germany. When intense enemy Nebelwerfer fire had caused heavy casualties, including all non-commissioned officers in his platoon, Lieutenant Raffensperger, without regard for personal safety, personally directed the fire of his heavy machinegun platoon and by his superior leadership succeeded in maintaining supporting fire for attacking troops."

"The bravery and outstanding devotion to duty of Lieutenant Raffensperger, under hazardous conditions, reflect the highest credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States." The citation was signed by Major General Louis E. Hibbs, commander of the 63rd Division.

Lt. Raffensperger entered service in May, 1943, and went overseas in November of last year and was in combat for 125 days before V-E Day. A brother, Sgt. Mack Raffensperger, is at Pearl Harbor where he serves as a radio operator at a regimental headquarters.

Guam, June 16 (AP)—American soldiers and marines fought forward behind flame-throwing tanks on the southern Okinawa plateau today in a campaign which Lt. Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner, Jr., said should secure the entire island within a week.

Late frontline dispatches estimated the possibly 10,000 remaining Japanese now were compressed into an 8-square-mile area.

Buckner's Tenth Army spearhead ahead in the center and at both ends of the three-mile-long line against resistance that still was ferocious despite the enemy's great casualties and the fact that many of the defenders were service troops or Okinawan conscripts.

In the center, the 96th Infantry Division, commanded by Maj. Gen. James L. Bradley, completed the capture yesterday of 500-foot-high Yaeju hill, which the troops call "the Big Apple," and then swung westward and attacked Yuza hill with tanks to knock out positions from which the Japanese were heavily harassing the First Marine Division's flank.

Beyond The Peak
Robert Geiger, Associated Press correspondent writing from the top of the hill, said that the line already had advanced a half-mile beyond the peak.

Maj. Gen. Pedro A. Del Valle's First Marines, a mile and a half westward on Kunishi ridge, consolidated their hold despite a plunging automatic fire from the Japanese on Yuza hill and sent patrols out ahead of their lines.

The Marines Thursday night repulsed a small Japanese counter-attack and numerous infiltration attempts.

The Seventh Infantry Division under Maj. Gen. Archibald V. Arnold was pressing a flanking drive against the last two hills remaining in Japanese hands in the eastern sector.

After advances of 700 yards, the 32nd Infantry Regiment of the Seventh Division virtually completed occupation of the town of Nakaza and advanced southwest of the town toward hill 115 while the 17th Regiment drove towards hill 153 on the west.

Behind the American lines the Sixth Marine Division and 77th Infantry Division were clearing out isolated Japanese.

NEW YORK SEES PURPLE HEART PARADE FRIDAY

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)
A million ordinarily noisy New Yorkers stood mute along the broiling sidewalks of Fifth avenue at noon yesterday. Up from the lower reaches of the broad street came only one sound, the whine of 200 Army jeeps geared down to two miles an hour.

It was Infantry Day, and the men with Purple Hearts were on parade. Crutches stuck up from some of the machines like pins in a cushion. Bandaged heads, and arms, and faces. Here and there a nurse accompanied a man still too ill to go it alone. On the jeeps were printed the names of battles—of Cassino, Burma, Saipan, Okinawa, Ie, Aachen, Leyte, of Cherbourg and of Attu.

More Like Church
There was little color to this parade. The khaki of the Army, the white of bandages, here and there a splash of red from bouquets of roses brought by some girls just before the parade started, a few streaks of lipstick left on pale faces.

There was a smattering of polite applause as they passed the reviewing stand. But there was little if any cheering. It was more like church. In San Francisco the small nations lost their prolonged fight to provide, within ten years, for even a review of the veto power over world security now reserved to the big five. In San Francisco Britain and France objected to including in the new world charter a clause providing for regular reports from colony-holding nations.

Reds In Poland
In Poland, according to the Polish Telegraph agency, new postage stamps issued by the Warsaw government bear an overprint of the red star with a hammer and sickle where once was printed the Polish eagle. Over the shrine at Lidice, over the open field marking the spot where Nazism reached its depths, there fly two flags, the red banner as well as the Czech.

In Germany the Krupp, master forgers of the materials of war, have walked blithely up to request permission for resuming operations, not saying what for, except to help rebuild Germany.

In Paris Madame Andre Vioet, delegate to the French consultative assembly, says France has acquired the reputation of public enemy No. 1 in the Middle East.

The Associated Press reports from Guam this morning begins "American soldiers and Marines fought forward behind flamethrowing tanks on the southern Okinawa plateau today."

Up Fifth avenue with the whining jeeps yesterday rode a guard of honor — two battalions of men for whom the war is just beginning, parading on the eve of their departure for the Pacific.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir:
I am writing you a few lines to thank you for the fine service I have been getting from The Gettysburg Times here in France. I have been in France now for eight months and I have been receiving a paper at least every three or four days. I sure do appreciate this service very much as I find out about a lot of my friends in the service through it. I have been able to find out a lot of my friends' addresses through the paper. Today I met Lt. Crawford Witherow who is from G-Burg. There used to be eight of us from Gettysburg in this company but so far the infantry has taken half of us. It sure wasn't a nice way to see them go but we know they went for a good cause. We are stationed in Reims where the Germans signed their unconditional surrender. We have been stationed here ever since we came to France. It is a great thing to know that the war is over on this side. Now all we are hoping is that we can come back to good old Gettysburg and start life all over again. The only thing that blacks out our hopes is the Pacific. There is a big fight yet to come over there and it won't be an easy one. But being a soldier I have complete faith in our boys and know that they will come out on top. A month or so ago I visited Paris and I just can't describe how wonderful it was. While I was there I happened to run into Sgt. Paul White who used to work under Sgt. Strohm at the college. I am at the present holding down a clerk's job in our orderly room. It really is a fine job and it keeps me in practice in typing. Well I suppose I will have to bid you all in Gettysburg "bon swar" and hoping to soon return to the old home town real soon. Again I want to thank you for the Times.

MEAT TOO ACTIVE
Denver, (AP)—Downtown Denver became an open range yesterday when taxi driver Jerry Scaglione bulldozed a black and white calf that fell from a truck and stirred up a traffic snarl. Scaglione put the calf in the back seat of a taxi where it promptly began to eat the upholstery. Then he tried police headquarters but they advised they had no quarters either. Finally he got rid of the walking red points at the stockyards.

ORIGINAL APARTMENTS

Colorado has ruins of habitation as old as Europe, and men in our armed forces believe they are worth preserving. They should spur millions of Americans to buy more War Bonds to back U. S. armed forces fighting for their preservation. Scientists unearthed the first apartment house in the Mesa Verde National Park, southwestern Colorado. It revealed a romantic story of how 70,000 small-statured people dwelled there until about 1276, when some tragic happening ended their existence.

Leaves From Diary Of War Correspondent

By A. I. GOLDBERG
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

Augsburg, Germany, June 15 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Wade H. Haislip, new commander of the U. S. 7th Army which will handle a sizable portion of the occupation task in Germany, is a regular army man who fights by the book.

"Our strategy in this war was developed according to the manuals and fought along the lines for which we trained in our military schools," he said. "I don't think we learned anything new—anything that should have changed the course of our strategy in the campaign during which we crushed the German army."

Haislip said "as commander of the 15th Corps which under black-out spearheaded Gen. George S. Patton's drive across France, I have commanded 31 of the 62 divisions that took part in the conquest of Germany."

Tribute To Leaders

"It is a great tribute to our military training, to our general staff and to our schools that they always operated smoothly. They all spoke the same language. There never was any necessity for re-educating or changing commands."

"It all adds up to a great tribute to the wisdom of our military thinkers."

Haislip, chubby white-haired and pleasant, was graduated from West Point in 1912 and helped staff the Eighth Infantry occupation regiment at Coblenz after World War I.

Once Chief of Personnel

Haislip once was the war department's chief of personnel and was director of the general staff's budget and legislative planning branch in the year before Pearl Harbor. He organized the 85th division and once reorganized California's giant desert training center.

He was born at Woodstock, Va., on July 9, 1889. After returning from his occupation duties in 1921 he was an instructor at West Point until 1928. He was assistant executive officer to the assistant secretary of war until 1931 and until 1936 instructor at the general staff school at Leavenworth, Kans.

Haislip takes over the 7th army under Gen. Jacob L. Devers of the 12th army group.

separated by a thin wall of straw.

Kohlrabi—Sow seed by July 10 for the late crop. Burial or storage in a moist, cool cellar is recommended, with burial preferred. These, too, may be buried in the same mound as turnips and rutabagas.

Don't Bury Onions

Turnips—Sow seed by the middle of July for the main crop. Burial is the most desirable way to store turnips.

Rutabagas—Make final sowing around June 15 to 20 for the late crop, as rutabagas require more time to mature than do turnips. They may be buried in the turnip mound.

Potatoes—Of course, no comment is necessary on the subject of burying potatoes; it is an old American practice.

Parsnips—This hardy vegetable may be left in the garden over winter and is even improved somewhat by freezing. However, ease of burial warrants the inclusion of parsnips in the carrot-turnip-rutabaga-kohlrabi-beet mound.

Onions do not permit burial despite their hardness. Neither do pumpkins and squashes.

Large quantities of any root crop should be divided into two or more smaller mounds rather than burying many bushels in one heap. But for small garden purposes, medium lots may be combined, as suggested above. Then the cellar supply may be easily replenished in cold weather by opening but one mound instead of several.

Readers unacquainted with root crop burial methods are invited to write the editor to ask all the related questions they desire. In the meantime every square foot of garden space should be kept busy producing food until late autumn, with burial plans held in mind as a certain means of storing the surpluses.

Storing Eggs For Home Use

Housewives who plan to store eggs for home use next fall and winter should write the editor at once for directions. By following long-demonstrated methods suggested, eggs may be stored for home consumption so they retain almost their original freshness and flavor. SEEK IDENTITY OF 3 VICTIMS OF RAIL CRASH

Milton, Pa., June 16 (AP)—Pennsylvania railroad officials continued their search today for clues to the identities of four of the 18 persons killed yesterday in a freak collision here between a Washington-to-Buffalo express and a freight train.

Among the three women and one serviceman still unidentified are a woman with a wedding ring engraved "FEC to ARP. 10-20-41" and a soldier whose clothing bore only a laundry mark, a railroad spokesman said.

Railroad crews meanwhile are working to clear away the twisted wreckage of the Dominion express and the freight train into which it crashed.

Hit Derailed Freight

Thirty persons were injured and 200 shaken up when the 14-car Dominion express thundered at 55 miles an hour into the 34th car of the freight, which railroad officials said was derailed and thrown into its path by a broken journal.

Traffic was detoured yesterday over a 40-mile stretch, but P. W. Neff, general superintendent of the railroad at Williamsport, said a single line was ready for use early today. Crews are rushing repair of a second track so normal traffic can be restored, Neff said.

The identified dead in the crash are: Pvt. William T. Christoff, Ridgway, Pa.; Mrs. Francis Cheslock, Shamokin, Pa.; N. E. Graeff, fireman, Harrisburg, Pa.; R. C. Stratton, engineer, Camp Hill; A. R. Hovarter, brakeman, Harrisburg; Mrs. Catherine Ennes, London, Ont., Canada; Dorothy Reynolds, member of the Women's Army Corps (no address); Pfc. Herbert E. Swan, Buffalo, N. Y.; Eldred P. Boland, North Tonawanda, N. Y.; Edward J. Seibert, Buffalo, N. Y.; William A. Lawrence, North Tonawanda, N. Y.; Mrs. W. D. Butler, Turemansburg, N. Y.; Mrs. H. E. Saylor, Montezuma, N. Y.

A soldier from Camp Shanks, N. Y., whose identity is being withheld until next of kin is notified.

PIRATES, BUMS KEEP WINNING A'S TRIP YANKS

By JACK HAND
(AP Sports Writer)

Beating the champ has been the time-accepted routine for winning a title and the Pittsburgh Pirates aren't straying from the beaten path in their quest of a first flag since 1927.

In seven meetings with the world champion St. Louis Cardinals, the Pirates have triumphed five times, picking up where they left off last fall when they beat the Red Birds nine times and tied once in their last 10 clashes.

Bob Elliott who is playing inspired ball since Boss Frankie Frisch sent him back to his old outfield job and gave up the third base experiment, broke the back of St. Louis last night with a 6th-inning homer that snapped a 2-2 tie and started the Buccos off to a 5-2 victory.

Barrett Beaten

A paid attendance of 24,315 fans greeted the Pirates, who had taken over the lead for the first time Thursday, and watched Nick Strinzevich outpitch Charley "Red" Barrett, the ex-Boston hurler who has been knocking them dead in a Cardinal uniform.

Only a half game separated the Pirates from the onrushing Brooklyn Dodgers who match Pittsburgh's record of seven straight wins and continue to amaze the "experts" who doomed them to a cellar scrap with the Phillies.

The Dodgers had stormy going in Boston before they pulled a 9-8 verdict out of the hat in a see-saw opener of a doubleheader. The second game was rained out in the third inning, all tied up 3-3. Frenchy Bordagaray came through as a pinch hitter for the second day in a row to drive the tying runs with a double in the seventh and the Brooks put on the clincher with three runs in the eighth. Reliever Clyde King scored his third straight success at Ira Hutchinson's expense.

Arrival of the Phillies at the Polo grounds snapped the New York Giants out of their tailspin and Mel Ott gathered his forces together to take a 7-5 edge. Ott had to use two pitchers, Bill Emmerich who replaced starter Andy Hansen, receiving the credit but new leadoff man, Leon Treadway, was the big star with three hits, including a three-run homer and four runs batted in.

Hurler One-Hitter

Chicago got super-duper pitching from Claude Passeau and Hy Vandenberg to sweep a doubleheader from Cincinnati, 8-1 and 3-0. Passeau allowed six hits in the opener but Vandenberg, making his first, but not last, starting appearance, allowed only one fly hit in hurling the shutout. That was a fluke double by Al Liske in the first inning.

Detroit was idle in the American when their night game in Chicago was washed out but their lead was stretched to a full game when the New York Yankees bowed to Philadelphia, 4-3. Hank Borowy was batted off the hill for his second setback to eight decisions.

Boston's Dave Ferriss got back on the win path with a 14-inning 6-5 edge over Washington in the first of two but had to go hard to get it. The Red Sox overcame a five-run deficit to tie it up in the seventh and finally took the nod on Johnny Lazor's fourth hit in the fifth extra frame. Johnny Niggeling held the hill for 13 innings of the finale against Mike Ryba, Vic Johnson and Francis Barrett but got nothing better than a 4-4 draw when the 12:50 curfew intervened.

Cleveland spoiled the St. Louis Browns' first home appearance since May 20 when Lou Boudreau blasted three hits, including a two-run homer, to help his tribe to a 5-2 triumph. Allie Reynolds took the win over Weldon West.

Ed Furgol Tops Amateurs In Meet

Philadelphia, June 16 (AP)—Ed Furgol, who took up golf to strengthen an injured left arm, opened today's third round of the Philadelphia Inquirer $17,500 war bond invitation tournament as the top amateur with a 36-hole score of 142.

On the professional side, Chicago's Jimmy Hines continued to shatter par for a 133 with Byron Nelson close behind with a 136.

Furgol, a 25-year-old automobile worker from Detroit, injured his arm in a playground accident many years ago. He never took a golf lesson, mainly because no professional could direct his unorthodox swing. He perfected the game so well, however, that he averaged 72½ strokes a round in 18 consecutive winter tournaments.

Baseball games are now being sought by the recently organized Ardentsville nine. Managers of other teams are requested to telephone William Guise, Biglerville 136-R-3, after 6 p. m. and 148-R-22 before 6 p. m.

Redbirds Capture 1st Doubleheader

The Allentown Redbirds won their first doubleheader of the season in an Interstate league game at Allentown last night, defeating the league-leading Lancaster Red Roses, 7-4 and 10 to 6.

The Wilmington Blue Rocks took a 6-5 victory over the York White Roses at Wilmington park as 1,668 fans looked on.

Ray Esslinger, 27-year-old York pitcher, was forced to leave the game when he suffered an attack of appendicitis. He was taken to Wilmington Memorial hospital for observation, and relieved in the game by Walter Cwik.

Today's schedule: Lancaster at Allentown, Trenton at Hagerstown and York at Wilmington.

NINE ENTRIES IN PREAKNESS

Baltimore, June 16 (AP)—Arguments over whether the Kentucky Derby winner, Hoop, Jr., is a great race horse or just the best of an ordinary field came down to the Preakness' mile and three sixteenths today as nine three-year-olds prepared to go postward in the 55th running of the famed Pimlico feature.

The gates at old Hilltop were opened early as the vanguard of a crowd expected to touch 50,000 streamed in for the biggest stake day in American turf history. Post time for the first race was 1 p. m. Eastern War Time with the Preakness scheduled for 4:12 p. m.

The Hoop ruled an 8 to 5 favorite while the odds on his principal rival, Walter M. Jeffords' Pavot, switched to 2 to 1 as the wise ones recalled the 1944 juvenile champion's sizzling workout over the Preakness distance earlier in the week.

On a soft track Pavot, who skipped the Derby, covered the distance in 1:39 1/5, compared with the record of 1:37 set by Alsab in 1942. With a hot, clear day predicted by the weatherman, the track was lightning fast.

Other stakes on the eight-race program include the $20,000-added Dixie handicap, the $20,000-added Pimlico Oaks, the $5,000-added nursery and the $5,000-added Jennings handicap. The purses for the card are expected to reach about $165,000.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, June 16 (AP)—It was 40 years ago today that Branch Rickey played his first major league baseball game for the Browns at Philadelphia. . . . The box score, provided by historian Ernie Lanigan, reveals that Catcher Rickey (the wasn't the Mahatma then) didn't get a hit in three attempts. . . . That wasn't surprising because Rube Waddell fanned eleven Browns to win 10-1 and Rickey went down on strikes twice. . . . If the youthful Branch was anything like the Rickey of today, a matter that probably interested him as much as his hits was the line: "Attendance—3,740." . . . That was Rickey's only game with the Browns that season but it also brought him his first big-time press notice. . . . The Philadelphia North American scribe (possibly Charley Dryden) wrote: "Sometimes Mr. Morgan is a pretty good pitcher, but he got started wrong. He was assisted by Mr. Rickey, said to be distantly related to the genius who invented things with gin." . . . That must have been a very distant relationship.

OVER THE MOUNTAINS

When Zane Moon, 16-year-old Kemmerer, Wyo., high school boy, won the Rocky Mountain AAU 100-yard dash at Denver, he was invited by several teams to accompany them to the national championships in New York. . . . The local school athletic fund couldn't stand the strain of financing such a trip, but Kemmerer sportsmen began sending in contributions and within a week Zane and his coach, Jack Burke, were assured that they could make the journey. . . . Moon, who has run 100 in 9.6 seconds, admits he never has been extended to win a race.

OUT FOR VICTORY

The Bowlers' Victory Legion, which has furnished the cash for such things as books, playing cards and fishing tackle for servicemen, is virtually certain to carry on after the war ends, probably to help in the rehabilitation program. . . . This year the BVL has collected a quarter-million dollars — $65,000 more than last year — and still is going strong even though bowling has subsided for the summer.

STUDY COAL PRICES

Washington, June 16 (AP) — A sub-committee representing the bituminous coal operators, United Mine Workers and some Pennsylvania Congressmen will begin its investigation of the feasibility of price increases for coal produced in the Pittsburgh area.

CHILD DROWNS

Point Merion, Pa., June 16 (AP)—Eleven-year-old Jean Du Boise, New Kensington, stepped into a deep hole in Monongahela river Thursday and was dead when firemen recovered her body. She had arrived here only an hour before for a vacation visit with her grandmother.

HAS SOLUTIONS FOR POST-WAR DAIRY WORRIES

Five ways in which farmers can help solve new milk marketing problems which may arise after the war are suggested by Kenneth Hood, extension agricultural economist at the Pennsylvania State college.

Among probable problems in milk distribution, as he sees them, are an abundance of milk, lower milk prices, a buyer's market, higher costs of labor, and possible increasing competition between dried and fresh milk.

Dr. Hood suggests that farmers support a "good strong farmers' marketing organization" whose function would be to bargain for milk prices, guarantee markets and payment for milk, service members on returned milk, make fat analyses and bacteria count, and fight for agricultural equality. He predicts that in many instances such co-operatives will handle the milk, and may go as far as retail delivery.

Tips For Dairymen

He proposes, also, that farmers "improve the quality of milk in order to meet the demands of discriminating consumers, and in order to compete successfully with substitute products." Another help would be to reduce the seasonal variation in milk production by breeding a larger percentage of the herd for fall freshening, thus keeping the flow of milk more nearly on a level with consumer needs.

Today's Talk

YES AND NO
How few of us come to realize the significance of a decisive yes or no! Yet each word is extremely indicative of the character of the one who makes use of it. Carlyle once wrote a famous essay on the "Everlasting No."

So many of us try to "duck" these words, try to creep around the corner from them—fearful of their use. We say "perhaps," or "I think so," or "I'll have to think it over." It takes courage to utter either one of these words—at the right time. But each is of no value unless used decisively.

You don't have to speculate upon the sort of a person who has early learned the art of saying yes or no—and meaning it, at the right time. The entire mind clears the moment that an honest decision has been made. And so much time is saved by a decisive yes or no, as the case may be. There is also no guessing as to where you stand.

Putting facts and authority behind the decisions that we make, furnishes us with personal prestige and sets us apart. Weaklings and cowards resort to anything but a straightforward yes or no. They are afraid to declare themselves, and so they remain stagnant, neutralized, and flabby-minded. Not so with those who have learned to say yes or no—and feel it.

These two words become so important at times that they stand out like traffic lights—to be obeyed. Often they mark the way between success and failure, becoming the sign-posts to character. There is a certain joy to be attached to the use of either of these significant words, for they indicate instantly one's caliber of mind.

Both thrills and chills accompany the use of these words. They bring to experience both joy and sorrow. The youth asks: "Do you love me—will you marry me?" Then it is that the yes thrills! And the no chills. Throughout all our days, however, we experience the same reactions. Yes and no are definite words.

In the United States and in England a child under seven years of age is not criminally liable for any act.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TEN YEARS AGO
Local Man Is Married Sunday: A pretty wedding was solemnized in St. John's Lutheran church, Hagerstown, Sunday morning at 9 o'clock, when Miss Margie M. Himes, of Hagerstown, became the bride of Raymond L. Little, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Little, Hanover street.

The ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. J. Edward Harms, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, in the presence of the immediate families and intimate friends.

Married Saturday: D. Lafie Wolfe, of Myersville, Maryland, and Miss Erma L. Miller, of Gettysburg, were united in marriage Saturday evening at the United Brethren parsonage, by the Rev. Dr. N. B. S. Thomas.

Married May 29: Mrs. Ruth Wright, of near Fairfield, and Milford P. Stoner, of Fairfield, were married in Cumberland, Maryland, May 29, by the Rev. Paul Sharpe in the Lutheran parsonage.

Benner-Bream Nuptials: Miss Arline Elizabeth Benner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Benner, Iron Springs, and Lieutenant Kenneth Deardoff Bream, son of Associate Judge and Mrs. John C. Bream, Fairfield road, were married Saturday morning at 11 o'clock at the Fairfield Mennonite church by the Rev. A. W. Geigley.

After a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bream left for Sheffield where they will reside.

County Girl Is Married: Miss Floranna B. Fox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emory A. Fox, of Cumberland township, and J. Gordon Holtzapfel, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Holtzapfel, of York, were married Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in St. James Lutheran church by the Rev. Spencer W. Augst.

Mr. and Mrs. Holtzapfel will reside in Lancaster.

Couple Marries Friday Evening: Miss Rose Agnes Keiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Keiser, Mt. Pleasant township, and Ralph Robert Moritz, near Seven Stars were united in marriage by the Rev. Timothy O'Hanrahan, rector of St. Joseph's Catholic church, Bonneauville, in the rectory, Friday evening at 9:30 o'clock. They were attended by Charles Keiser and Miss Emma Keiser.

Academy Ends Long Service In Education: Gettysburg academy's "sun is now setting but with a radiant finger the record is now written of a long, long day filled with joys and blessings and achievements worth while," Dr. C. A. Huber, headmaster, said in his farewell address at the one hundred and eighth and last commencement exercises. Thirty two seniors received diplomas at the exercises, at which Dr. Oscar F. Blackwelder, of Washington, D. C., was the principal speaker.

Change Residence: A. E. Bupp, Western Maryland station agent, who recently purchased the Everhart home on Carlisle street, moved from 121 York street to his new home on Friday.

College Commencement: Characterizing the world of today as one in a plane of transition, moving along in upward progress, the Rev. Dr. Lloyd C. Douglas, of Wellesley Hills, Massachusetts, noted author and retired minister, admonished the one hundred and five members of the graduating class of Gettysburg college to face the future without fear and pessimism at the one hundred and third annual graduation exercises held Monday morning on Memorial field.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Hull, Chambersburg street, are attending the Shriner's convention in Washington, D. C.

With the pent-up demand for transportation no postwar car will have to be the berries to be picked.

Something new—at least the term—has been added to motoring. It is the word "normalizing." It simply means the process of getting the engine properly warmed up so that valve tappet adjustments can be made with safety. You may think that the engine is warmed up because it has been idling for five minutes or so, or because the heat gauge is showing the cooling system fluid to be nearing the danger mark. What is more important is the temperature of the circulating oil for it is a more accurate gauge of the temperature of intimate motor parts. When a fussy mechanic wants to do a super-job on the tappets he checks oil temperature before he starts to fuss with the tappets, and he makes plenty sure that the oil indicates that the engine is ready for the job. This is particularly important in the case of valves in the head.

The Motor Primer

Here we are back to the subject of front-end caster again, a topic that bears constant repetition because it is so generally misunderstood. It isn't enough to compare the setting of the front wheels with the casters on furniture, nor to compare this situation with that prevailing in the front wheel setting of Junior's bike. We must give the subject more of a technical twist if we are to grasp it fully. So here goes for another try:

Consider the caster angle as making the vertical load precede the point of contact between wheel and road. It also causes the wheels to run straight and to straighten up after a turn. Without this caster consideration the weight of the car would be directly above the point of contact and the wheels would wander. The car would definitely lack steering stability.

Next time the engine starts to misfire when you are climbing a hill ease off on the gas, and drop into second if the car falls below a safe speed for high gear. By easing off on the gas you lower compression. Unless spark plugs are right up to par, and are of the right type for the particular engine, they may fail when compression is too high for them.

When an oil filter cartridge is filled up oil will no longer go through the filter, and filtration ceases. Easiest way to know when this happens is to note how the filter shell feels when the engine is well warmed up. If the filter feels cool no oil is circulating through it.

Mechanic Joe Speaking

"When you are somewhat at your wits end because the engine persists in overheating be sure to check the valves. Not that the valves in themselves may encourage overheating if they do not have enough clearance or are so warped that they do not hold compression, but merely that their condition will be a clue to what may be the underlying cause of the heating."

"Suppose you find a couple of badly burned valves. This may hint of failure of the exhaust gases to escape fast enough and may be your clue to trouble with the exhaust system, such as a clogged tail pipe, a bent exhaust pipe, or a clogged muffler. Sometimes in these days of frequent muffler replacement it is possible to equip the car accidentally with a muffler that offers too much back pressure."

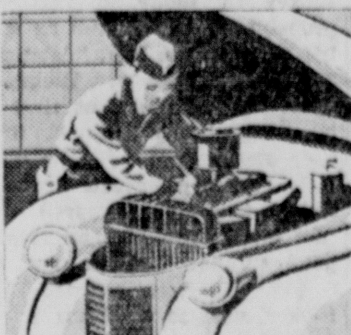

Nervousness is a gas waster that accounts for many a driver's low mileage these days. One form of it is the habit of playing a tune on the accelerator waiting in traffic. It was found that when a truck made 150 traffic stops in a day's running with the engine idling at 325 rpm this one hour and 52½ minutes of idling consumed only 4675 gallon of gasoline. On the same trip the next day the driver was instructed to pat the accelerator just once during each stop. It checked at a waste of one-half pint per day. You can figure from this what happens to your gas supply when you beat a tune on the accelerator every time you stop.

Told By The Plugs

What's the meaning of plugs that are dirty with black carbon or soot?

Keep in mind that this indicates one or more of several conditions that call for immediate correction. One is that the mixture may be way off normal, this naturally including the possibility of a stuck choke valve (it is more correct to say

The face I loved is now laid low, His loving voice is still. The hand so often clasped in mine, Lies now in death's cold chill. I often sit and think of him When I am all alone; For memory is the only thing That grief can call its own.

Sadly missed by His Wife. Gone, dear father, gone forever, How we miss your smiling face, But you left us to remember None on earth can take your place. A happy home we once enjoyed, How sweet the memory still. But death has left a loneliness The world can never fill. In our hearts your memory lingers Always tender, fond and true. There's not a day goes by, dear father, That we do not think of you.

South Dakota's State Capitol at Pierre stands as a monument to enterprising pioneers who braved storms and Indians to settle as free men. MONDAY AND TUESDAY
The exotic and mysterious bayou country of Louisiana forms a backdrop for intrigue and terror in Benedict Boreaus' "Dark Waters," new film arriving at the Majestic theatre on Monday through United Artists release.

Based on a widely popular Saturday Evening Post serial of some months ago by Marion and Frank Cockrell, "Dark Waters" has been brought to the screen with Merle Oberon, Franchot Tone and Thomas Mitchell in leading roles.

Support is rendered Miss Oberon and Messrs. Tone and Mitchell by Fay Bainter, Elisha Cook, Jr., John Qualen, Rex Ingram and Nina McKinney.

WEDNESDAY
"Eadie Was A Lady," Columbia Pictures' new musical featuring Ann Miller with Joe Besser, will play at the Majestic theatre on Wednesday. Besides these two leading players, the cast includes William Wright, Jeff Donnell, Jimmy Little, Marion Martin, Kathleen Howard and Hall McIntyre and His Orchestra.

THURSDAY, FRIDAY, SATURDAY

Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn are co-starred again in "Without Love."

An outstanding cast, headed by co-stars Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn and including such tried-and-true comedy experts as Lucille Ball, Keenan Wynn and Felix Bressart, has been brought together by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to provide one of the most mythical movies of the season in "Without Love," which opens Thursday at the Majestic theatre.

Based on the play by Philip Barry, author of "The Philadelphia Story," the new attraction is the story of a scientist-inventor (Tracy) and a girl (Miss Hepburn) both of whom shun love. Each has different reasons for rejecting love, and both are determined to stay away from it.

SMALL NATIONS BLOC IS LOSING

San Francisco, June 16 (AP)—Small nation opposition to a big-five veto over future changes in a world security charter is cracking up, and leaders of the big power bloc hope to win out on this issue tonight.

It is one of three which conference committees are struggling to wipe out this week-end in line with a high-speed schedule which calls for President Truman to address a final session of the United Nations conference next Saturday.

The other two controversies are: 1. Whether colonial powers, such as Britain and France, should be directed to make reports on their colonies to the proposed new leagues. Australia proposes that they should. The two big powers object.

2. Whether the projected general assembly of United Nations should be empowered to debate any aspect of international relations or only matters concerned with peace and security. This is an old issue, previously settled over Russian objection in favor of the right to debate any international affair. But Russia has insisted that it be re-opened, demanding the peace-and-security restriction.

Discussion of a big-five veto over future amendments produced a long and sometimes sharp session of a conference committee last night.

Rep. Knutson, (R-Minn.), Republican leader of the tax-framing committee, predicted hearings can be completed and the bill passed by the House within a week or 10 days.

The committee expects to open public hearings Tuesday.

The measure proposes no material reduction in ultimate tax burdens, but is intended to speed post-war payments on rebates and credits due industry. This would make billions of dollars available for reconversion.

No change in either the individual or corporation income tax rate is contemplated at this time.

Four Senators Are Judicial Candidates

Harrisburg, June 16 (AP)—Four state senators are among the candidates seeking party nomination for 40 judgeships at Pennsylvania's primary election next Tuesday.

Nomination to the Allegheny county orphans court is asked by Sen. John Fremont Fox, a Democrat.

Two Republican senators, Paul M. Crider, of Franklin county, and William I. Troutman, of Northumberland county, and one Democrat, Wallace S. Gourley, of Washington county, are candidates for the common pleas court in their respective counties.

Both Republican and Democratic candidates for two places on the state superior court bench, the only state offices at stake in the general election next November, are unopposed at the primary.

Judges John C. Arnold and W. Heber Dithrich, appointed by Governor Martin, are the Republican candidates. Democrats slated A. Marshall Thompson and John Morgan Davis to oppose them at the fall balloting.

27-Day Strike At Scranton Is Ended

Scranton, Pa., June 16 (AP)—A 27-day strike of 400 Scranton Transit company employees ended early today when bus and trolley runs were resumed under supervision of the Office of Defense Transportation.

The ODT was ordered to take over operation of the company yesterday by President Truman, who said the strike was threatening to impede the war effort. The third regional War Labor Board had ordered termination of the strike but employees continued to refuse to return to work.

The employees met late last night, however, and voted unanimously to go back to their jobs.

The work stoppage resulted from a dispute between the company and Local 168, Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America, (AFL), involving pay increases, overtime pay and revised operating schedules.
